LabVIEW

LabVIEW Laboratory Virtual Instrument Engineering Workbench, is a widely used graphical programming language in academics and leading engineering and research organizations. LabVIEW is ideal for any measurement and control systems. It differs from traditional programming languages in which we can create programs using a graphical notation. LabVIEW can create programs that run on those platforms including Digital Communication Systems, Image Processing, Field Programmable Gate Arrays (FPGAs), Digital Signal Processors (DSPs), Microprocessors, Biomedical etc. It also provides Hardware Support for Data acquisition devices, Sensors, Cameras, Motors and actuators.

The five days workshop mainly focus to Learn fundamental skills to develop data acquisition, instrument control, data-logging, and measurement analysis applications as well as have an opportunity to take the Certified LabVIEW Associate Developer (CLAD) exam, a globally recognized entry-level certification exam.

The focal intend of this workshop includes but is not limited to:

1. To train with professional educators and provide experiential education to students
2. To carry out research projects and hands-on with live industrial problems.
3. To develop prototypes using Test measurement and control
4. To offer Internship and recruitment opportunities

Subject: Two Day Workshop on Data Analytics using R

Dear Sir/Madam

In the current ICT era, every organization deals with terabytes of data in their day to day operations. Trying to derive meaningful information out of it using tools like Excel pivottables, etc. will lead nowhere. A viable tool is essential to handle the volume of data towards any meaningful outcome. The open source R programming language is the most popular statistical software tool in use today. It's used by more than 2 million data scientists worldwide.

ICT Academy of Kerala is organizing a Two-day workshop on Data Analytics using R.

We are directed to submit the Utilisation Certificate to ICFOSS, at the earliest. So, I kindly request to sanction the amount for the smooth conduct of the above programmes, at the earliest.
